ty in Southwest Arkansas. However, in October only one traffic mishap occurred on highways in Columbia County. He said that Montgomery County completed the entire thirty-one day period without a single traffic accident.
Statewide, troopers investigated 946 accidents.
Mosier concluded by stating that as of October 31, 1969, 480 persons had died in traffic mishaps on Arkansas Highways. This is eighty-seven fewer deaths than were recorded for the same period in 1968, when 567 persons had died. He asked for continued public support and encouraged drivers to adjust their driving for the approaching winter season.

Nixon Plans to Stay in Washington

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon rarely has spent a full Saturday in the capital since taking office nearly 10 months ago, but he plans to be at the White House this weekend when the latest war protest is scheduled to reach its climax.

White House Press Secretary
Ronald L. Ziegler said the President, who usually flies to Florida or to nearby Camp David, Md., for his weekends, has a regular round of appointments Saturday.

That's when the protesters are to wrap up their three-day demonstration with a mass march down Pennsylvania Avenue to within a block of the executive mansion.

In addition to the announcement of the unusual weekend plans for the President, the White House also arranged an unusual Wednesday evening news conference for a bipartisan congressional delegation backing Nixon's Vietnam policies.

The session underlined an administration claim that it has a majority of both the Senate and House signed up in support of Nixon's policies.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., describing himself to reporters as a Lyndon B. Johnson Democrat, said that a pro-Nixon House resolution he sponsored "has attracted such spontaneous support from both sides of the aisle that we now have 300 cosponsors."

On the Senate side, things were done differently, presumably because Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, would not think kindly of such a proposal.

There, a letter-writing campaign is in progress with the messages addressed to Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. peace negotiator in Paris.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said such letters, supporting the Nixon approach to ending the war, had been signed by 37 Republicans and 22 Democrats.

Nixon invited the members of Congress to the White House and set up a telephone call to Lodge in Paris in which each of the eight House members and two senators—Allott and Republican Strom Thurmond of South Carolina—took turns talking to the ambassador.

Wright said Lodge was "elated" by the phoned expression of support.

The White House, as if to emphasize its "business-as-usual" stance, said normal public tours of the building would be conducted today and Friday. However, Ziegler said, due to the number of people expected in the capital for the demonstration, the White House will be closed on Saturday because
"there will be no way to effectively conduct the public tours."

Mrs. Gandhi Ousted by Parliament

By MYRON BELKIND
Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI (AP) — Three-fourths of the Indian Congress party's members in Parliament repudiated the party's old-guard titular leaders today and gave Prime Minister Indira Gandhi an overwhelming vote of confidence.

More than 300 of the 429 Congress members in the two legislative houses gave Mrs. Gandhi a cheering, desk-thumping ovation as she entered their caucus.
Then 310 of them adopted a resolution declaring "invalid and unjustified" her expulsion from the party Wednesday by the conservative majority on the party executive committee.

When Raftery returned he was followed by three armed men in their 30's. As Katherine opened the door, the guards
said, the trio jumped him and Kerrigan went for his gun.

"If you want to live to enjoy your pension, drop that thing now," the robbers warned. With guns at Raftery's back and head they added, "Don't make a move or we'll kill him."

They disarmed the guards, handcuffed them in the rear and placed canvas bags over their heads. Then one of the robbers drove the truck two blocks to a quiet residential side street where a 1968 Chevrolet was waiting.

Hurriedly they transferred 10 bags filled with bills—mostly used, dirty currency that could easily be passed. They left eight bags of coins and two other bags of bills they apparently overlooked.

Then they took off in the getaway car, later discovered to have been stolen two days earlier in the Bronx. Roadblocks were set up when a car fitting the description was seen heading for downtown Brooklyn but the bandits escaped.

$1.3 Million Haul in Wells Fargo Holdup

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was a most professional job," said the police official heading the investigation of the $1.37 million Wells Fargo armored car hold-up by three gunmen—the second largest cash robbery in U.S. history. "They were very cool."

Wednesday's daring daylight theft of Aqueduct Race Track receipts was nearly foiled by an unidentified housewife who became suspicious when she peered out her window and saw three men not in uniform transferring money bags to a car.

Her call to police brought patrol cars to the scene minutes after the bandit trio had roared off with the stolen money, leaving the three Wells Fargo guards handcuffed inside their truck.

The cash haul surpassed the $1,219,218 taken in the 1950
Brinks robbery in Boston and in U.S. history is exceeded only by the theft of $1,551,277 from a U.S. mail truck in Plymouth,
Mass., on Aug. 12, 1962.

Robbers got $7 million in cash in a train robbery in Britain in August 1963.

Frank Basil, president of the New York Racing Association, said the loss was insured by Aqueduct and Wells Fargo.

The day for the armored truck crew began routinely when they left the track in Queens at 11:33 a.m. and began the drive to the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. at 23 Wall St. in Lower Manhattan.

They were carrying approximately $1.4 million representing receipts from Monday and Tuesday. The Monday receipts had not been deposited because banks were closed Tuesday for Veterans Day.

Locked in the back riding shotgun was Barry Katherine, 25. The driver, James Kerrigan, 50, and crew chief, Thomas Raftery, 35, were up front. Each carried a holstered sidearm.

They drove to Pine and Fulton streets in Brooklyn where they stopped so Raftery could eat.
His partners remained in the locked truck.

When Raftery returned he was followed by three armed men in their 30's. As Katherine opened the door, the guards
said, the trio jumped him and
Kerrigan went for his gun.

Told State Can Tolerate No Cheating

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 150 state government department heads and travel supervisors were told Wednesday that the state can tolerate no cheating.

Robert Faulkner, executive aide to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, said public confidence demanded that state employees adhere to expense account regulations.

He said spot checks indicated some abuses, but that the problem was not widespread.

The administration called the department heads and travel supervisors together for a brief meeting on expense account regulations.

Faulkner called it a "housekeeping" meeting.

He said the problem was affecting the morale of employees.
Expense account abuses recently were alleged to have been found in the state Revenue Department.

Dr. Max Milam, director of the Administration Department, said abuses weren't as big as they had been made out to be.

He said his department, which makes a preaudit check of expense vouchers, had returned some for clarification.

Faulkner said Rockefeller was embarrassed by the salaries paid to state employees.
He said the salaries were low.
But, the aide said, the governor is trying to do something to raise the salaries. In the meantime, employees cannot use their expense accounts to improperly supplement their salaries, Faulkner said.

"We have to live within the law and get the law changed," he said.

The expense limit on meals and lodging is $10 per day.
Faulkner said the limit was un-

Klan Figure to Be Released

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Robert M. Shelton, imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, will be released from the Texarkana Federal Correctional Institution here Monday.

Warden L. M. Connett said Shelton, who was serving a one-year sentence for contempt of Congress, will be released because of good time earned and credited to his sentence.

Revenue Commissioner Bob
Scott said that as of July 1, state cars will carry licenses to make them readily identifiable.

He said the licenses probably will be white letters on a red background, with the letters
"SP" for "state property," and will bear the words: "Official Business Only."

The only casualties so far in the two hijackings were two plainclothesmen accidentally wounded when the Chilean airliner landed in Santiago. A jittery air force sergeant fired his submachine gun, seriously injuring the two detectives sitting in a car.

Authorities said the Brazilian plane, a twin-engine Cruzeiro do Sul airliner carrying six passengers and six crew members, was commandeered by a man with a gun and a hand grenade who approached the pilot and said:
"Let's go to Cuba."

Dear TTHU: Our daughters and friends are now asking, "What's your malfunction?" I Likel—H.

P.S. Here are more new or revised definitions:

Day dreams: preoccupational hazards.

Sicked (as in psychedelic): Tired of girls.

Delbert: do-do, or dumbhead.

Swift: Peachy keen.

Not too swift: gross.

Slop happy: He who likes cafeteria food.

Let sleeping dogmas lie: Douse the lectures, parents dear.

In the final analysis: certain politicians should substitute this for the overused "in the final analysis."

And then there was the guy who said, "I am descended from a long line my mother once heard."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LYNN
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — NBC pre-empted its entire evening schedule Wednesday night to show four special programs, all on the happy and light side.

It was easy viewing, but toward the end of the 3½ hours, began to seem a little much, like a third helping of chocolate mousse.

The multispecial night started on an imaginative, merry note with a half-hour animated comedy about Bill Cosby's growing-up days and made a hero out of his friend Fat Albert.

The narration was pure, familiar Cosby, telling of his gang's football encounter with the formidable Green Street

Terrors. It had great charm and warmth—and probably was appreciated more by grown-ups than by children.

Johnny Carson's excursion into early evening television followed and consisted of a series of comedy sketches which were pretty disappointing.

The hour opened with a sketch about two sets of parents with two college-student children announcing their plan to live together. It was broad and predictable. Another was a much too long satire on the Oscar awards, this one featuring "Oedipus Awards" for dirty movies. The idea was funny at first but bogged down.

Aiding Carson were George C. Scott, Maureen Stapleton and Marian Mercer, all skillful Broadway performers. They did their excellent best with the material. Carson, who wore a lot of fright wigs, mugged and played broadly, seemed out of his depth.

The three Supremes and the five Temptations, a fine pair of singing groups, worked together in the stylish and handsome hour of music that followed. The theme was Broadway, an excuse for a lot of great, familiar music, from "Mame" to "Rose Marie."

Diana Ross of the Supremes was the undisputed star of the show, leading the clowning, playing everything from a comedy superstarlet of the 1930s to an Indian princess in a mad spoof of the old Nelson Eddy-Jeanette MacDonald films. The sets and the costumes were especially effective.

"Norman Rockwell's America," which wound up the night, was based on the warm and gentle humor of the artist and perhaps had more meaning for older viewers who grew up with the now departed Saturday Evening Post Rockwell's covers were a zinfestration.

The program was a novel retrospective of 50 years of Rockwell drawings, and slipped into sketches or songs based on the artist's theme. Jonathan Winters was effective in a sketch about a lonely travel agent's man.

Hope Star SPORTS

Nashville Here for Homecoming

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Hope vs. Nashville, one of south Arkansas' best rivalries, will resume tomorrow night at Hammond Stadium for the Bobcats' Homecoming, with kickoff time set for 7:30 p.m.

With an 8-2 record the Cats are favored to take the Scorpions of Nashville for the second straight year, but nothing is certain in this series.

And though Nashville is only 5-4 and faces its worse season in some time, fans can remember back several years ago when a mediocre Bobcat team ruined a Scrapper unbeaten season with an upset win in the season finale.

Visiting teams have always had the upper hand in Hope-Nashville battles, which would indicate that the Cats are in for it, as they very well may.

There is only one Scrapper on offense now that played against Hope last year and that would be All-District junior scabbard Allen Ray. Injuries took away linemen Johnny Blackwell and Stan Reeder last week, leaving Nashville mainly with a group to begin building for 1970.

Offensively they will run a Winged-T with a split end, usually to the opposite side of the wingman. Since this lineup can confuse a shifting defense like Hope's monster, the Bobcats likely will declare a strong side to where Ray lines up in the backfield.

At quarterback is Randy Walston, a 135-pound sophomore replacement for Johnny Graves, a senior who underwent knee injury sometime back. Walston has played only at halfback before, but is a decent runner with an unproven arm.

Wingback Roger Echols (140) is a fine junior with lots of determination and is a key man on the Scrapper offense. Echols can run or catch passes, and he can line up tight or wide and still the defense must not overlook him.

Larry Ray, the starting fullback, suffered a broken arm in the 34-9 loss at Magnolia last Friday, and his substitute will probably be soph Rony Briggs, a speedy little 142-pounder. Briggs has quickness and runs with reckless abandon, but his blocking is unproven.

And then there is the cream of the crop, Allen Ray. After a great soph season running the football, Allen is back as a 165-pound junior with more size and knowledge.

His statistics maybe haven't been quite as impressive as last year's but the threat is there and the Hope defense will be working hard to contain his well-blocked end sweeps.

At tight end is Jimmy Rice, a 150-pound junior with little experience, and the split end on the other side is first-year senior Allen Prather (145). Neither take too much of a load catching the ball, as Nashville just doesn't pass the ball except when necessary.

Billy Mac Bollinger, a former end, has been converted this year as a 170-pound junior in to left tackle, where he has improved and done well. Reeder was the other tackle, and his vacancy will probably be filled by Ricky McCullough (172), and junior who has started off-and-on this fall.

The guards are Jim Jamison (145), one of the first unit's few seniors, and junior Terry Boyea, a scrappy 135-pounder who played nose guard on defense as a soph, Randy Jamison, a 180-pound junior, is the center and another of the squad's four 'Jamisons'.

That offense has scored a respectable 154 point in nine games, an average of about two TD's per week. They probably will have problems against Hope's 4-AA leading defensive unit, and the result will determine much of the game's outcome.

Nashville still runs the basic 3-4-2 defense with two cornerbacks and a pair of safeties manning the secondary. They do use several two-way performers starting on defense, which could be a difference.

At Darling, a junior 152-pounder, is one of the ends, but Stan Reeder was the other and his replacement is unknown, though it could be 190-pound soph Joey Jamison. Bollinger and Randy Jamison are the tackles, and McCullough starts at nose guard. The linebackers, who frequently come up to form a seven-

Chili Supper Sponsored by Boosters

Friday night is the big night in more ways than one, first it's Hope High's Homecoming and the Bobcats will meet the Nashville Scorpions at 7:30 and Nashville will have one thing in mind, to repay Hope for spoiling their Homecoming last year.

Before the game the Hope Athletic Booster Club is sponsoring a Chili Supper from 5 to 7 p.m. All proceeds go toward buying the Weightlifting machine purchased by the Club at a cost of near $3,000 for the Athletic Program.

You may purchase a ticket from any Booster Club member or buy at the door. Price is $1.00 for adults and 50c for children. Remember, all the money taken in by the Booster Club goes to improve the entire Athletic Program. Everyone is urged to come out, eat some Fay James' famous chili and see a jam-up ballgame.

Butkus Best Defensive Man of Week

CHICAGO (AP) — Linebacker Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears, a terror on the field and a tame family man off it, has at least one vote as being the best player of all in the National Football League.

The former Illinois star, in his fifth pro season, is the Associated Press NFL Defensive Player of the Week.

He won these spurs by leading a defense that forced four turnovers, scored two safeties and held the Pittsburgh Steelers to 31 yards rushing and 55 passing in a 38-7 victory Sunday.

It ended a seven-game losing streak for the Bears.

Butkus made 15 unassisted tackles and 10 assists, man front, are Jimmy Rice off the offense and probably Frank Sellers, a 185-pound soph. Roger Echols is the right cornerback, and his counterpart on the left side is likely to be Tommy Ames, a 155-pound senior.

Allen Ray was a cornerback last year but now is switched to halfback along with former defensive end Bubba Smith, a 165-pound senior who has fought injuries all season.

On defense Nashville has been inconsistent, and the mere fact that some of their starting spots are not filled by definite and capable performers leads on to weakness. They have allowed 163 points, but most of those went to Prescott (35), Arkadelphia (39), Magnolia (34), and Ashdown (30).

The other five opponents together totaled 25 points, but when the Scorpions have lost they have given up a good bit.

As kicking goes, Randy Walston is one of the best punters around, and he can kick them consistently over 40 yards from scrimmage. Then there is Allen Ray to return kickoffs and punts, which he has done with much success this season.

The Hope Bobcats have come up with some tough practices this week, and the Hope High student body had an impromptu pep rally yesterday afternoon in Hammond Stadium as a part of the Homecoming Week activities.

Injuries are not to the point of seriousness, though senior defensive halfback Randy Still may sit this one out with a staff infection in the leg.

This is the last chance for Hope fans to see the Bobcats at home this year, unless the team makes the 4-AA Championship playoff and it is played here. Of course, in the back of everyone's mind is the Hope-Arkadelphia showdown next Friday, but the Homecoming and accompanying affairs have kept the team's thought and concentration mainly on getting up for this one.

World Series Richest in History

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The richest payoff in baseball history finds each New York Met collecting $18,338.18 and each Baltimore Oriole pocketing $14,904.21 from the World Series and the pennant playoffs.

The old highs were $12,794.00 for the victorious Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1963 World Series and $8,189.36 for the losing Dodgers in the 1966 Series with Baltimore.

The Atlanta Braves, winners in the National League's West Division but beaten three straight by the Mets in the playoffs, each get $6,944.10 and the Minnesota Twins, who took the American League's West Division but were eliminated by the Orioles in three straight, each take home $6,460.12.

After those big numbers, released Thursday by Charles Seigar, secretary-treasurer of baseball, there is a big drop to $574.94 for each Chicago Cub who led the National East by 9½ games as late as Aug. 13 but finished second, Detroit, the pennant winner in 1968, had to settle for $630.79 after finishing way up the track behind Baltimore in the American East. San Francisco's Giants each get $612.13 as runnerup to the Braves in the National West and Oakland gets $597.58 each for finishing second to Minnesota in the American West.

Third place teams also share in the pot. In all, 12 of the 24 teams in the expanded majors shared in the loot.

The player pool from the Series was a record $1,142,200.93, topping the old high of $1,044,042.65 for the 1966 set between the Orioles and Dodgers. Total attendance of 272,378 and receipts of $2,857,782.78 were short of the records as there were only five games. As the players share only in the first four of their shares were records.

With the addition of the new playoff series for league pennants, baseball had instituted guaranteed payoffs for the top four teams. The World Series winner was assured of $15,000, the loser $10,000 and the losers of the two pennant playoffs $5,000 each. If the Mets had not been so generous with over 35 shares, each would have received more than $20,000.

The commissioner's office released a detailed financial breakdown of the playoffs and Series. Although 12 teams get some of the Series money, only the four teams involved are in the player pool for the playoffs.

The Mets voted 35 full shares and assorted partial shares and cash awards. Donn Clendenon, the Series hero who joined the club from Montreal June 15, got a full share. So did Bobby Pfeil, the extra infielder who was not eligible for the Series. Amos Otis, a part time outfielder who spent most of the year on the farm, got a half share.

Baltimore voted 32 shares and various other partial shares and money. Atlanta voted 30 full shares and others, Minnesota 34 full shares and others, Chicago 34 full shares plus, San Francisco 31 full shares plus, Detroit 32 full shares plus and Oakland 28 full shares plus.

Billy Martin of Minnesota, Hank Bauer of Oakland, Dick Williams of Boston, Larry Shepard of Pittsburgh and Dave Bristol of Cincinnati, all fired after the season or in the closing weeks, each got a full share. Bill Rigney, let out in early season at California, was voted a half share by the Angels or $9.15.

Jones Boy Did It for the Rockets

Maybe the whole town wasn't talking about the Jones boy in Pittsburgh Wednesday night. But anyone who watched the Denver Rockets whip the Pipers 125-114 in an American Basketball Association game was.

Larry Jones fired in 43 points in sparking the Rockets to a come-from-behind victory, only their third triumph against 11 losses, rookie Spencer Haywood of the Rockets put on a show, too, scoring 35 points and grabbing 20 rebounds.

In other ABA games, the Indiana Pacers downed the Carolina Cougars 130-111 as the Dallas Chaparrals topped the Washington Caps 122-104 and the Los Angeles Stars turned back the New York Nets 133-126.

In the National Basketball Association, Cincinnati tripped Boston 116-107 and San Diego beat Detroit 132-119.

John Brisker topped the Pipers with 36 points, followed by Charley Williams with 26.

Auerback Keeps Cousy From Playing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It may be just as well that Bob Cousy hasn't been able to get reinstated as a player in the National Basketball Association. His Cincinnati Royals might lose to the Boston Celtics in that case.

Cousy, now coach of Cincinnati, went 2-0 against his old team when the fired-up Royals whipped the champion Celtics 116-107 Wednesday night.

The Royals were keyed up because Red Auerbach, general manager of the Celtics, has refused to release Cousy from the Celtics' retired player list without a deal with the Royals.

San Diego defeated the Detroit Pistons 132-119 in the other NBA game scheduled.

Indiana crushed Carolina 130-111, Denver beat Pittsburgh 125-114, Dallas downed Washington 122-104 and Los Angeles humbled New York 133-126 in the American Basketball Association.

Oscar Robertson, the Big O, paced Cincinnati with 25 points as the Royals put on dazzling performance of ball handling and hit on 47 per cent of their shots.

After leading at the half 60-51, the Royals drew out to a 21-point lead at 95-74 before the Celtics rallied in the last quarter on the shooting of John Havlicek and Don Chaney.

Don Nelson led the Celtics with 23 points followed by Havlicek at 22 and Chaney at 21. Fred Foster was second high for the Royals with 17.

Jim Barnett and Elvin Hayes, the Big E, combined for 29 points in the last quarter to pace San Diego over Detroit.

San Diego led by 89-87 starting the final period before Barnett cut loose with 17 points and Hayes 12.

Hayes was high scorer with 34 points while Barnett finished with 25. Terry Dischinger paced the Pistons with 20, three more than Dave Bing.

Minnesota Shopping for New Coach

The Minnesota North Stars are shopping for a new coach but in the meantime, they aren't doing too badly with the old one. Wren Blair, who doubles in brass as the National Hockey League club's general manager and coach, has offered the bench job to Bernie Geoffrion, currently assistant general manager of the New York Rangers. And while Geoffrion decides what to do, the North Stars are moving towards the top of the NHL's West Division under Blair.

Jean Paul Parise scored two goals and set up another Wednesday night as the North Stars whipped Philadelphia 4-2, to move within one point of first place St. Louis in the West. Meanwhile, Geoffrion's current employers, the Rangers, aren't doing badly either. They socked Detroit 4-2 Wednesday, tagging the Red Wings with their first road loss of the season.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh shut out Toronto 3-0 and Montreal blanked Oakland 5-0. Parise tied the score at 2-2 in the first period against Philadelphia and then slipped out of the penalty box to set up Claude Larose's go-ahead goal for the North Stars.

Parise got a step on the defense as he left the box after serving his penalty. He slipped the puck to Larose for the goal as Minnesota took the lead. Then Parise scored again in the third period for the North Stars' wrap-up goal.

Jean Hatelle and Walt Tkaczuk scored two goals apiece for the Rangers who showered 42 shots on Detroit goalie Roy Edwards but were locked in a scoreless game until the final four minutes of the second period.

The loss was the first after four victories and a tie on the road for Detroit this season. Pete Sternkowski and Wayne Connolly scored the Red Wing goals.

Goalie Les Binkley produced his first shutout of the season as Pittsburgh blanked Toronto and dropped the Maple Leafs deeper in the East Division cellar.

Bryan Hextall set up the Penguins' first goal by defenseman Tracy Pratt and then scored

A-State Drops to 8th in AP Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There's room at the top now in the nation's small college football poll for the simple reason North Dakota State is through for the season.

The Bison finished No. 1 again last week—and now turns its attention to the Camellia Bowl Dec. 13 in Sacramento, Calif.

Sports writers and sportscasters voting in the AP national panel awarded the Bisons 11 first place votes and 300 points Wednesday after the Fargo fanatics beat South Dakota State 20-13 for a 9-0 season record.

The Camellia Bowl will be the Bisons' third straight postseason game. They won twice in three Pecan Bowls and in 1964 won the Mineral Water Bowl game.

Montana, 9-0, again finished second in the poll with one first place vote and 279 points boosting its record to 9-0 by blanking Cal Poly SLO 14-0 and Delaware, 7-1, beat Lehigh 42-17 for 185 points and another third-place finish.

Akron, 8-1, moved from fifth to fourth with one first place vote and 165 points after crushing Youngstown 60-27 and New Mexico Highlands, 7-0-1, jumped from seventh to fifth with 158 points and one first-place vote after burying Southern Utah 59-0.

Alcorn A&M, 6-0-1, remained in sixth place with 151 points after beating Mississippi Valley 41-10. Louisiana Tech, 6-1, advanced from eighth to seventh with 128 points after nipping Southeast Louisiana 25-24.

Arkansas State, 5-1-1, dropped from fourth to eighth after tying Drake 21-21. Northern Arizona, 7-2, was a newcomer to the Top Ten, occupying ninth position after finishing 12th last week.

Northern Arizona, which beat Eastern New Mexico 48-20, just edged out Texas A&I, which dropped from a tie for ninth into 10th place. Texas A&I, 7-1, received a first-place vote after blanking Howard Payne 27-0.

In the second 10, Tampa, 5-2-1, joined the rankings in 11th place after beating the Quantico Marines 45-10.

The "Top Twenty," with first-place votes in parentheses and total points:

Montreal stretched its unbeaten streak to seven in extending Oakland's winless string to six. The victory enabled the Canadiens to maintain their one-point lead over the Rangers in the East Division race.

Claude Provost powered the Montreal attack with a pair of goals while goalie Rogation Vachon chalked up his first shutout of the season. Jean Beliveau, Yvan Cournoyer and Mickey Redmond produced the other Canadiens' goals.

BOILERMAKERS TO BOP BUCKS TOP QUARTERBACKS BATTLE

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fearless Forecaster

Egad, friends, this is the BIG weekend of the 1969 football season. The Big, Bold Buckeyes of Ohio State, the nation's No. 1 college power, entertain the powerful Purdue Boilermakers, who are fighting for a Rose Bowl berth. An added attraction to the main event in this nationally televised treat will be the Heisman Trophy battle between the Bucks' talented Rex Kern and Purdue's brilliant Mike Phipps.

Ohio State will be going for its 22nd straight victory but, alas, I have sad news for my one-time student, Woody Hayes. The Hoople System foresees a thrilling 35-28 triumph for Purdue—har-rumph!

Yas, dear readers, Mike Phipps, who missed most of last season's contest when the Bucks upset his club, 13-0, will bomb Ohio State into submission—um-kumph!

Meanwhile, at Iowa City,

Killebrew Named Most Valuable

By PAT THOMPSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Harmon Killebrew stretched for a throw into the dirt at first during the 1968 baseball All-Star game in Houston, and collapsed with a ruptured hamstring muscle in his left leg.

The stocky, balding slugger missed half of that season and wound up with only 17 homers and a lowly .210 batting average. Some persons thought Killebrew would be forced to retire. Even the Minnesota Twins slugger had his doubts.

But today, Killebrew is the American League's Most Valuable Player for 1969.

"Some people didn't think I was going to play at all," Killebrew said Wednesday from his Ontario, Ore., home after he was informed of the award. "I was quite concerned. At the beginning of the season I wasn't quite sure."

However, the worries were premature.

Killebrew played in all of his team's 162 games in what he called one of his best seasons.

He matched his career high of 49 home runs, drove in a career high of 140 runs, drew a career high of 145 walks, scored a career high 106 runs and batted .276. Killebrew gave the West Division champion Twins the game winning hit 22 times.

"I did a lot of work to get in shape during the off season," Killebrew said. "I exercised the leg, did a lot of hunting, walking over the hills. I really think you have to go through a season without too many injuries to have a good year."

What about next year? "I'm just going to hope I can play like last year," the 33-year-old slugger said. "I want to play as many games as I can and stay away from injuries."

Killebrew received 16 of the 24 first place votes from the Baseball Writers Association of America selection committee, which consisted of two writers from each league city.

Baltimore first baseman John "Boog" Powell, who batted .304, hit 37 homers and knocked in 121 runs, finished second in the voting and got six first place votes. Killebrew had a total of 294 points, Powell 227 and Baltimore's Frank Robinson—the 1966 A.L. winner and 1964 National League MVP—was third at 162.

Frank Howard, Washington power hitter with 48 homers, had 115 points, and Reggie Jackson, who hit 47 homers for Oakland, was fifth with 110 points.

Caracas Golf Play Opens

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The $25,000 Caracas Open Golf Tournament opened today with Art Wall Jr. of Honesdale, Pa., one of the leading contenders.

Michigan, another Rose Bowl possible, takes on dangerous Iowa. The Wolverines had best pay attention to business and not be looking ahead to their meeting with Ohio State a week from Saturday. I predict Michigan will win 24-14!

There's a real barn-burner in store for the lucky fans at Jackson, Miss., Saturday night, when Ole Miss takes on unbeaten Tennessee. The Mississippi Rebels, who surprised LSU earlier this year, will end the Volunteers' win streak at seven with a spine-tingling 17-14 triumph—kaff-kaff!

Another nocturnal crowd-pleaser, which will also delight a nationwide TV audience, pits Notre Dame against George Tech in Atlanta.

Touchdown Bound

The high-scoring Irish, who boast a stingy defense which has allowed only 21 points in its last five games, will vanquish the Tech lads, 37-7!

In last week's competition between my nephews, the brash Leander bested his cousin Alvin rather handily. Leander, in a performance worthy of a Hoople, had 20 right, six wrong and one tie for a .770 average. Alvin ran into a rash of upsets and was forced to settle for 15 correct choices, nine misses and one tie for .625.

Now go on with the forecast.

Kapp Came Up With a Visible

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Any quarterback can call an audible at the line of scrimmage but it takes a Joe Kapp to come up with a visible.

Kapp had the Minnesota Vikings on the Cleveland one in the closing minutes of the first half of Sunday's 51-3 romp. The Browns dug in with an 11-man line, prepared for the plunge. The Vikings also were ready to grind it out on the ground.

As Kapp took the ball he spotted Gene Washington all alone in the end zone so he waved to Washington. It was too late to tell the rest of the club so they went through their regular blocking chores. Kapp wobbled a pass to Washington for a touchdown, his 17th of the year.

"Washington was so surprised he fell down when he caught it," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant said.

Although Kapp already had been named the Offensive Player of the Week in National Football League the day he threw seven touchdown passes against Baltimore, The Associated Press picked him for the second time for his work against the Browns.

Kapp threw for three touchdowns, all to Washington and completed 16 of 24 for 223 yards in the rout of the Browns. He hit with his first seven and 12 of his first 13 passes. Washington also made a key block.

Opening lead—♥ 10

Today's hand was sent to us by Leon Levinsohn, who has been playing in Mississippi and Alabama bridge tournaments as long as we have, which means he played in the first one. He didn't show us the East and West hands or the bidding, so we have made up some bidding of our own. There would be no real play for the slam with a club lead but West opened the 10 of hearts and Leon had a chance to make his slam.

The normal play would be to draw trumps and lead the jack of diamonds toward dummy's king. This would represent a 50-50 chance but Leon tried a different line. He won the heart in dummy and led the seven of diamonds at trick two. His reasoning was that West was the sort of player who would surely lead an ace against a slam if he had one. Hence, East was marked with the diamond ace and the play of a diamond to the king would not work. He asked us what we thought of his play.

Our answer is that it pays to know your opponents. Since he was sure that West would have opened the diamond ace if he had it, then there was no reason to lead toward the king. His choice lay between this play and that of leading a low club at trick-two in the hope that West would win the trick and not find a diamond shift. That play would not have worked and, while this play really should not have succeeded, it did work and we see why Mr. Levinsohn, after 49 years of play, is still a dangerous opponent.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1	Pass	2
Pass	3	Pass	3
Pass	5	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠AK876 ♡A2 ♦3 ♣AK754
What do you do now?
A—Bid six clubs. You should feel very sure of this contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three hearts, your partner has bid three diamonds over your two spades. What do you do?

Youths Rate Film Code

Distributed by NEA

Opinions of the nation's youth on the motion picture rating code are widely varied. How effective is it? How do young people react to the system that is designed with those age 17 and under in mind? Does it actually serve a purpose?

"You get information about a film from the rating code, even if you haven't read a review or heard about it from other people," says one student.

"Many people would never go to an X-rated film, while others would make a special point of seeing something that might be risqué."

Gilbert Youth Research's National Gilbert Youth Poll questioned high school, college and out-of-school youth across the country, and found that most of them (90 per cent) are familiar with the rating system.

Many respondents (80 per cent) feel the code's restrictions tend to make some people curious to see films if they are rated R (restricted), persons under 16 not admitted unless accompanied by parent or guardian) or X (persons under 16 not admitted). "You know, some people notice that a film has an X rating and automatically decide to go see a 'dirty' film," said a college sophomore from Indianapolis.

"It's an easy way to increase a movie's popularity," said a 23-year-old girl from Dallas. "X means forbidden—so, even if a film is really horrible, many people will want to see it, simply because it's got sex in it," said a 17-year-old boy from St. Louis.

Forty-eight per cent of those interviewed felt that the motion picture rating system helps prevent exposure to certain films, while 43.6 per cent disagreed. The younger respondents (under 17) were more enthusiastic about the system's effect than the older (over 22). "It serves as a form of protection," answered an 18-year-old girl from Decatur, Ill. "Children should certainly not be exposed to a lot of films that are around today."

Of the opposite opinion was a 23-year-old from Denver. "It's totally ridiculous. The classifications mean less than nothing—nobody pays any attention to them."

Many young people (75 per cent) feel that the motion picture rating code definitely helps parents determine which films their children should see; however, those 18 and under were less positive about this than the older group (19-25). "Parents may forbid their children to see an X-rated film and send them to a G-rated film, but that just makes the kids more curious about what they're not supposed to see," said a 17-year-old from Chapel Hill, N.C.

"It's just a cover-up to allow filthy movies in first-run theaters," stated a college junior from Boston. "The movie industry, rather than censoring itself, which is the reason the code was set up, is really saying that anything goes as long as it carries a rating," he added.

Only 25 per cent of the 14- to 25-year-olds feel the rating system serves no useful purpose. College students seem more favorable (65 per cent feel it is useful) than high school students (59 per cent feel it is useful) or out-of-school youth (only 49 per cent feel it is useful).

Social Security Questions and Answers

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Social Security, Ken Hargis, Box 1319 Texarkana, Texas 75501. Your name will be printed in the Hope STAR unless you request that it be withheld.

Q. I have a 9-year-old daughter who has been mentally retarded since birth. I understand that some payments may be due her from social security. Am I correct?

A. In certain cases, yes. A child who is disabled for work since before age 18 can receive payments on the social security account of an insured parent who is retired, disabled, or deceased. Such a child can receive payments throughout his life if he remains incapable of self-support.

Q. I am a civil service employee who will be 62 next year. In the early 1940's I worked under social security for a while. Have I lost credit for this work or can it still count toward the quarters of coverage that I'll need for retirement benefits under social security?

A. No, you have not lost your work credit. Any quarters of coverage, regardless of when earned, will count toward the number you need now for retirement benefits.

Q. I have been told that I have more quarters of coverage to my credit than necessary. Will this increase my benefit amount?

A. Not necessarily. Having the required number of quarters means only that certain types of cash benefits may be payable. The amount of the benefit will depend on your average earnings, the higher the benefit.

Q. My wife worked several years ago under the social security program. How can she find out how much credit she has?

A. We are sending her a "Request for Statement of Earnings" postcard. This card is addressed to the Social Security Accounting Office in Baltimore, Maryland. They will send her a summary of her record, if she will fill it out and mail it.

Q. What was the recent change in social security that affects people in the armed forces?

A. Under the old law, a serviceman received credit for his base pay only. Beginning January, 1968, he receives credit for an additional credit of up to $100 for each month in which he receives active duty pay.

TV NOTEBOOK Crazy Redhead Ann-Margret

Ann-Margret

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It was not your normal, ordinary, everyday strange sight.

It was a lush redhead wearing a plunging back, bell-bottomed jumpsuit with sequins, dancing The Popcorn on the Hollywood Freeway.

It was enough to cause a rash of telephone calls to the Los Angeles police about "the crazy redhead on a wild trip."

Actually, it was only Ann-Margret. What's so odd about that?

She was on the fifth and last of five days spent Popcorn all over southern California freeways for a spot that will last about 60 seconds during the opening of her December 6 CBS-TV special, Ann-Margret: From Hollywood With Love.

"Ann-Margret feels," says TV specials are no longer special. A lot look like weekly variety series with a slightly bigger budget. I appear on TV once a year, and I do my damndest to be sure it's different. We've got the best of everything. A labor of love is what it is, and I refuse to cheat the public."

country who can negotiate or arrange a peace."

Nixon asked for the support of the people so he could arrange a peace, Alexander said, adding that he plans to stand by Nixon so the President will have a chance to implement his Vietnam policy.

Rhythm Band are the guests. And that's not cheating.

The show is produced by Ann-Margret's husband, Roger Smith and his partner, Allan Carr.

"We couldn't have done this show if I hadn't been married to the star, and she to the producer," Roger said. "We have been working on it over three and one-half months. No producer would dare to ask a star to give him that much time for a TV special if he weren't married to her."

Roger also wanted to show another facet of Ann-Margret to the public: her sense of comedy.

"We have one comedy skit with Dean Martin," Ann-Margret said, "that Roger wrote, but he was too shy to tell Dean he did. In it, I make fun of myself. It supposedly shows what life is like at home with Ann-Margret. I wear about 60 pounds of hair, a beaded gown for breakfast and I ride a motorcycle around the house. Once Dean, as my husband, tells me I have to rehearse for my scenes at the studio. 'You've got to practice panting, pouting and puckering,' he tells me."

"I was scared to do a comedy skit, but Roger insisted. It's such fun to make fun of yourself and your image. What is my image? It's so hard for me to know. I always think of me as lots of hair. In high school, even, it was always, 'Hey, you with the hair!' One time I cut my hair and I couldn't manage it. I was so unhappy, I kept tugging at it to make it grow."

Hope District Has 5 Deaths in October

The monthly statistical review of traffic accidents for Southwest Arkansas during October was released today by Captain Milton Mosier, commander of the Hope District of the Arkansas State Police.

Mosier said that five persons died in the twelve-county area comprising the Hope District. According to the report, Hempstead County was the deadliest, recording two traffic deaths for October. Little River, Polk and Sevier Counties each recorded one traffic death. Clark, Columbia, Howard, Lafayette, Miller, Montgomery, Nevada and Pike County completed October without recording a single traffic death. Mosier pointed out that this was a snake-bite, but since we could obtain no direct information we aren't publishing the names.

In the confusion arising out of this case the real cause for alarm was the report that neither Prescott nor Hope had a supply of snake-bite vaccine. If this fact were true, due to lack of demand or the high cost of keeping a fresh supply on hand—the vaccine has to be refrigerated and then replaced when its effective date expires—then it would be our public duty to call for a subsidized public aid station where the vaccine would always be maintained.

But this is unnecessary, because I found this morning that the vaccine is always available in both Prescott and Hope. I started to survey Hope first, but my initial call at the Village Pharmacy uncovered the fact that both this and its companion store, downtown Ward & Son have the vaccine—and it is also stocked by Hempstead Memorial Hospital.

Afterward, I talked to Dick Bright, administrator of the Nevada County Hospital at Prescott, and he told me the hospital has stocked snake-bite vaccine ever since it opened. Mr. Bright said the hospital had no record of the Hempstead child's case.

If you were alarmed as I was, that snake-bite vaccine couldn't be had in an area which has all four of North America's poisonous snakes—rattler, cotton-mouth, moccasin, copperhead, and coral—rest in peace, both Prescott and Hope have the vaccine.

With this qualification, however—the vaccine generally stocked is proof against rattlers, moccasins and copperheads—but there is a question about the bite of the coral. The coral is the deadliest snake of all, a cousin of the cobra, whose venom attacks the nerve system. The presumption is that a coral snake-bite calls for the attention of the best specialists in the land.

Today's edition carries another "first" for The Star—our first full-color preprint advertisement. It features La-Z-Boy furniture for Home Furniture Co.

We did not produce this work. It came to us as a roll of newsprint with the color page already printed on one side of the sheet. We put it on our rotary offset press along with our own rolls of newsprint, and printed the black-and-white page on the opposite side of the color sheet.

The color work was done by Springfield Graveyard Corp., Springfield, Ohio, which shipped us the roll a week ago. Our own four-color work is temporarily at a standstill awaiting a technical report from New York. We've turned out some pretty fair color jobs, but results are sometimes unpredictable and uneven. When this last kink is ironed out—and it will be—local color will be put on a regular production basis.

Ceremonies to Back Nixon
EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The Roy V. Kinard Post of the American Legion at El Dorado was to hold a ceremony today as "symbolic reaffirmation of President Nixon's Vietnam policies."

A spokesman said that U. S. flags would be exchanged on the state line at Junction City with an American Legion post from Homer, La.

Killed in One Car Accident

CLARENDON, Ark. (AP) — State Police said today that Steve H. Hall, 30, of Clarendon was killed Wednesday night in a one vehicle accident near Clarendon.

Police said the accident occurred when Hall's pickup truck ran off U.S. 79 and overturned several times, pinning Hall underneath the truck.

This is Arkansas highway fatality number 508 for 1969 as compared to 590 on the same date in 1968.

Walks Out on Trial, Back in Jail

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Rubin, one of the defendants in the Chicago riot conspiracy trial, has been jailed for walking out of court while the case was in progress.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman revoked the 30-year-old New Yorker's bail when his absence was noted Wednesday. Rubin surrendered to U.S. marshals later and was placed in the Cook County jail pending an appearance before the judge today.

One of Rubin's lawyers, William M. Kunstler, said he had left court early to catch a plane and meet a speaking engagement at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J.

Rubin did not appear at Rutgers and said later he never left town. He added that he had not intended to show disrespect for the court.

Abbie Hoffman, another defendant in the trial, delivered the Rutgers speech. He had remained in court until Wednesday's session ended.

Rubin and six fellow defendants had been free on bail during the trial of charges that they conspired to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

An eighth defendant, Bobby G. Seale, chairman of the Black Panther party, has been ordered to stand trial separately. Judge Hoffman made this decision after sentencing Seale to four years in prison for contempt of court.

The contempt sentence has been stayed pending disposition of a Connecticut attempt to extradite Seale on a murder charge. He is in jail in San Francisco.

$80,000 for Housing Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Wednesday that the Housing and Urban Development Department has approved a preliminary loan of $80,000 to help the Paragould Housing Authority plan the construction of 200 low-rent houses, 80 for the elderly.

Many Find Medal of Honor Harder to Wear Than It Is to Earn

By GEORGE W. HACKETT
Associated Press Writer
FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — They were there, like millions of other Americans, but they gave a little more to win the nation's highest award for bravery.

Some paid for the Medal of Honor with their lives. The survivors became a breed apart from other men.

"The medal is harder to wear than it is to earn," says Lt. Charles Hagemeister of Ft. Knox. "Any GI exposed to combat is a likely candidate for the citation. If he obtains it, people expect more from him. They unconsciously set up standards which he must meet."

Hagemeister and Capt. James A. Taylor, also stationed at Ft. Knox, were honored for heroism in Vietnam.

M. Sgt. Ernest Kouma, the post game warden, came out of the Korean War with the same decoration.

These three career soldiers, only Medal of Honor winners stationed at this sprawling Army base, speak matter-of-factly of their deeds.

"When you see your buddies in trouble, you don't pause to weigh the consequences," said Hagemeister. "You just wade right in."

He did just that on March 20, 1967, when his unit came under heavy fire from three sides by a

Haynsworth Debate Near Showdown

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate settled into a showdown debate today to decide the months-long controversy over the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court.

At stake are the votes of more than a score of uncommitted senators who could swing the balance on confirmation of President Nixon's nomination.

The debate is expected to extend into next week.

Filing of a Judiciary Committee majority report backing Haynsworth set the scene for today's opening of Senate floor arguments. The report said questions raised about the ethical standards of the South Carolina jurist have not been substantiated.

The committee majority also said the more fact that a controversy has arisen—even though unsubstantiated—is no reason in itself for refusing confirmation.

"Such a position is contrary both to traditional notions of fair play and to the lessons of history," the committee said. "To accede to such a view would be to place a nominee's fate . . . in the hands of his accusers."

It recalled that 43 years ago, when Louis D. Brandeis was nominated for the Supreme Court, a Judiciary subcommittee minority issued a report saying

Says DDT Residue to Show Up in Food for Another Decade

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Residue from DDT will still show up in the food Americans eat for at least a decade after the pesticide is banned, the government says.

Even if DDT were outlawed tomorrow, "it would take 10 years or longer" to cleanse the nation of effects already caused by the insect killer, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch said Wednesday.

Finch made the statement in announcing the banning of DDT within two years for all but essential uses.

The recommendation for phasing-out DDT, one of the most common modern pesticides, was made in a report to HEW by a commission headed by Dr. Emil M. Mrak, former chancellor of the University of California at Davis.

DDT — dichloro-diphenyl-trichloro-ethane—was first put to extensive use 30 years ago by the Swiss to kill insects infesting potatoes. It's use quickly spread and DDT became popular during World War II to protect GI's against insect-borne diseases. After the war it became the most popular weapon against insects that infested crops.

While the DDT recommendation was a highlight of the 44-page report, the commission also laid out far-ranging guidelines for improved regulations of other pesticides.

The commission cautioned, however, against going overboard on setting tighter tolerances for pesticide residues now permitted in food, particularly to require them to be complete.

Some Problems Created by Moratorium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Problems of communication and sanitation were confronting the Vietnam Moratorium Committee today.

A committee spokesman said the telephone company gave notice it would cut off service today unless a $20,000 bill was paid.

As for sanitation, there apparently were no arrangements for facilities for the 250,000 marchers the committee expects to participate in Saturday's war protest here.

Crop Estimated 86 Million Bu.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated the Arkansas soybean crop would total 86,160,000 bushels with the yield being 20 bushels per acre.

Other estimates Wednesday for the state were a rice crop of 30,168,000 hundredweight with a yield of 4,800 pounds per acre.

Big Attack Launched by Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched their biggest single ground assault along the demilitarized zone in more than a year and had 108 men killed by superior American firepower, military spokesmen reported today.

Twenty-six Americans were killed, 70 wounded and two helicopters shot down in 17 hours of close combat that lasted from Wednesday afternoon until dawn today. The battle took place six miles southwest of the allied outpost at Con Thien and 3½ miles below the demilitarized zone.

One American company—reportedly outnumbered as much as 3 to 1 when an estimated 500 North Vietnamese soldiers attacked their night bivouac in the predawn hours today—suffered 17 men killed. The company beat off the attack with the help of tanks, armored personnel carriers, artillery and helicopter gunships.

The commission cited an amendment to Food and Drug regulations—called the Delaney Clause—which requires the removal from interstate commerce of any food which contains a food additive capable of causing cancer in laboratory animals.

"If the Delaney amendment, as it is now written, were to be strictly enforced for pesticide residues it would convert us to a nation of vegetarians," Finch said.

"Much of our red meat, many dairy products, some eggs, fowl and fish—all parts of basic food groups deemed necessary to a balanced diet—would be outlawed because of very small pesticide residues from the ecological chain."

The heart of the commission report is a recommendation that the government agencies involved with pesticides coordinate efforts to set standards for registration, enforcement and future control.

Lashes Army for Open Air Gas Testing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accusing the Army of "lack of candor, deception and disregard of the public interest," a House committee called today for an immediate halt to large-scale open-air tests of war gas.

The panel said the public should know when future open-air tests—already restricted under provisions of an act adopted by Congress last week—are made.

Charging a "web of secrecy" envelopes Army chemical and biological warfare—CBW—operations, the House Government Operations Committee said in a report "there is no adequate justification for such secrecy and deception."

The report came shortly after Rep. Richard McCarthy, D-N.Y., asserted tear gas—described as a nonlethal battle aid by the military—is being used as a weapon of death in Vietnam.

McCarthy urged President Nixon to resubmit the 1925 Geneva Protocol on CBW to the Senate, including tear gas in the ban on use of all such agents in war. The United States has never ratified the agreement.

First Protest March to Start Tonight, Troops Are Well Prepared

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of a long file of marchers steps off tonight in a two-day procession that war protest leaders hope will culminate in the most massive peace demonstration in the history of the republic.

While order and tranquillity have been promised, the Army stands ready.

The stated goal of the protesters, converging on the capital from across the land, is to convince President Nixon the overwhelming majority of the American people want the war in Vietnam ended now.

But the President has said a "great, silent majority" is on his side and he and his spokesmen insist the foreign policy of the United States will not be altered by street parades.

With a last-minute display of amity between protest planners and the government, much of the tension that had built up in preparation for the three days of demonstrations seemed to dissipate.

But while optimism about nonviolence was being voiced on all sides on the eve of the protests, some 9,000 riot-trained soldiers were deployed around Washington, ready to move to protect the seat of government if the Justice Department—and Nixon—conclude things have gotten out of hand.

As the New Mobilization and Vietnam Moratorium committees feverishly worked out major details of the three-day campaign, the first of what protest leaders have predicted will be 250,000 demonstrators were trickling into the wet, chilly capital. A critical problem: billeting for tens of thousands as yet unaccommodated.

An outside chance of Washington's first snow hung over the beginning of the 40-hour "march against death," scheduled to get under way shortly after dark tonight.

Single-file, marshaled by their own kind, told to obey all traffic rules, they will trudge from Arlington Cemetery across Memorial Bridge, around the Lincoln Memorial, and past the White House. Each marcher will bear a placard lettered with the name of an American fighting man killed in Vietnam, or a Vietnamese village destroyed.

On passing the northeast gate of the executive mansion on Pennsylvania Avenue, the marcher will call off the name on his placard, proceed toward the Capitol grounds, and place the sign in one of 40 coffins.

It's a 4.2 mile march that See FIRST PROTEST

Judge Calls for Briefs in Liquor Case

The fate of some 1,000 cases of liquor seized here on October 23 will perhaps be decided within a few days by Municipal Judge John L. Wilson.

Judge Wilson has given the prosecution seven days in which to file brief. The defendant Henry F. Lambrecht of Adamsville, Ky. has already filed a brief which the judge has taken under advisement.

The load of liquor has been under lock and key here since it was seized. The case will probably test a new law by the last legislature would allow the County in which liquor is seized be sold and that money go into county funds. The state contends that the owner of the liquor and the driver, Ronnie E. Garrison, 22, of Selmer, who has been released on $1,500 bond, violated the state commerce commission laws governing the transportation of liquor across Arkansas.

Specialists Try to Get Apollo Ready

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

— Apollo 12, man's second excursion to the moon, was back on schedule for Friday's launch today after technicians swapped out a leaking fuel tank and began the laborious process of re-loading it.

"We look real good now," said Paul C. Donnelly, launch operations manager.

The launching is set for 11:22 a.m. EST Friday.

Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr., and Alan L. Bean — the Navy commanders who are manning the flight—relaxed this morning by doing acrobatics in T38 jet trainers at nearby Patrick Air Force Base.

Their condition was good and so were forecasts for Friday's launch weather.

President and Mrs. Nixon and Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew are scheduled to be among the 300,000 visitors expected for the launch.

The leak in the hydrogen tank was discovered Wednesday when crews had loaded it to 80 per cent of capacity. It was removed late at night and replaced with one taken from the Apollo 13 ship which was in a hangar being readied for launch next March.

The tank, part of the fuel cell system that produces the ship's electricity, is built like a thermos—with a vacuum acting as insulation between outer and inner walls. The leak was in the outer wall.

The tank itself holds 28 pounds of hydrogen, kept in a liquid state by cooling to 423 degrees below zero. There are two such tanks for hydrogen and two for oxygen in a service compartment behind the main cabin.

"We're comfortable because we know our problem," Donnelly said. "The problem is the tank. We have to get it out of there and get a new tank in." The space center had experts flown in from the manufacturer's plant in Downey, Calif., to help with the transplant.

The second hydrogen fuel tank on board would have been enough for the mission, Donnelly said, "but we've always lifted off with two tanks in the event we had this type of problem in flight."

While Gordon and Bean remained in crew quarters Wednesday for more study of their flight plan, Conrad was in a mission directors' meeting.

It was decided at the meeting to forego the only other launch opportunity this month—on Sunday—because the later start would move the moon-landing point 360 miles to the west.

Officials said they didn't feel Conrad and Bean should try to land on the alternate site because photographs from Apollo 11—the moon-landing flight in July—showed landmarks that were unknown before. The detailed training has been for the prime site.

A prime objective of Apollo 12 is to develop pinpoint landing techniques essential for the next moon landing, Apollo 13, in the rocky highlands.

Such accuracy was not necessary on the July flight in the flat Sea of Tranquility—and Apollo 11 missed its target by four miles. The Apollo 12 target is in the Ocean of Storms, also relatively flat.

Heading for the alternate site also would have wiped out the opportunity for Conrad and Bean to go to surveyor 3, an unmanned craft that soft-landed in a crater on the Ocean of Storms in April 1967. The astronauts hope to photograph the Surveyor or snip off some of its parts to see what has happened to it under lunar conditions.

Launching opportunities are determined by the position of the moon as it rotates around the earth and by lighting conditions at the landing site. The astronauts require a sun angle of 14 degrees—lunar day—that shadows of prominent peaks will clearly mark the approach path.

In November, Friday will provide the desired lighting conditions. On Saturday, there's a suitable site that has been enough photographed.

FIRST PROTEST (from page one) could take each of the 45,000 marchers 2 1/2 to 4 hours, depending on traffic. The "March Against Death" is supposed to last from dusk tonight to dawn Saturday. The lead marchers would not be celebrities, but next-of-kin.

Thus the scene would be set for Saturday's mass march and rally—which until Wednesday had been the most jagged bone of contention between protesters and government.

Across the nation, planes, trains, and buses have long been chartered, autos pooled, for this day in Washington. Estimates of the number expected have fluctuated wildly; although there's no way of knowing for sure, the most common guess has been 250,000.

The federal government, after weeks of negotiations, granted a parade permit for historic Pennsylvania Avenue—but not around the White House—to allow a sizeable percentage of the marchers to use that symbolic route Saturday morning.

The march will terminate at the vast, rolling grounds of the Washington Monument, in view of Nixon's bedroom. The grounds were the site of October's moratorium rally, when about 35,000 persons assembled, and Tuesday's pro-administration Veterans Day gathering of about 10,000.

The demonstration leaders have agreed to keep to one side of Pennsylvania Avenue, stationing their 2,500 marshals along the way, between the marchers and the government buildings that line the route—the Federal Trade Commission, the National Archives, Justice, Internal Revenue Service, the Post Office Department, the District of Columbia Building, the Treasury Department.

Former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who saw "no real indication of any significant violence," said a task force of more than 100 local lawyers would patrol the city to monitor events. Area doctors, too, were prepared to treat anything from blistered feet to LSD freak-outs.

An undetermined number of Army units around the country have been alerted for possible airborne travel to the capital. The first unit to come to Washington was from the 82nd Airborne Division of Ft. Bragg, N.C., which was tested in the Detroit riots and the 1967 march on the Pentagon.

Barring crisis, however, police work was to be left to the 3,800-man Metropolitan Police Department and 2,000 D.C. National Guardsmen.

The President, will be back in the White House Saturday after having viewed the scheduled Apollo 12 blastoff at Cape Kennedy, Fla., Friday.

The New Mob hopes to carry its full caskets into the White House grounds Saturday and meet with the President. The likelihood of either entry into the grounds or a conversation with the President seemed slim.

The all-day program at the Monument grounds includes speeches by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., with entertainment by Pete Seeger, the cast of the Broadway folk-rock musical "Hair," Peter, Paul and Mary, Jimmy Hendricks, and Arlo Guthrie.

ATOMIC POWER PLANT will be set up on the moon by Apollo 12 astronauts to power five surface experiments for at least a year, day and night. The nuclear generator, shown in foreground, will use eight pounds of man-made plutonium worth $1 million. Developed by GE for the Atomic Energy Commission, the unit weighs only 45 pounds with fuel and has no moving parts.

Black Balloons to Be Loosed on New York

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thousands of black balloons will be loosed in New York City, war toys will be burned in Cedar Falls, Iowa, and protesters at Denver University say they will fly a Viet Cong flag beside Old Glory.

The largest demonstrations of the Vietnam Mobilization week-end will be in Washington, but hundreds of other protests are being organized in cities and on campuses around the nation.

Supporters of U.S. policy in Vietnam also plan demonstrations. Seven combat infantry veterans in Lake Charles, La., asked all veterans to join them in a 24-hour vigil at the local courthouse to demonstrate support for American fighting men in Vietnam.

Dr. Kenneth Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation, said in Valley Forge, Pa., that President Nixon should offer a television defense of his policies featuring Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Organizers of Vietnam protests in New York have invited demonstrators to Sheep Meadow in Central Park, to lie in the grass and release more than 39,000 black balloons, one for each American killed in Vietnam. Several thousand white balloons will be released, an estimate of those to die in the next year.

The organizers said they had checked with local airports to make sure the balloons would not interfere with air traffic.

At the University of Northern Iowa in Cedar Falls, protesters said they would build a bonfire and toss war toys upon it.

Denver University students said they would lower the American flag to half staff at noon Friday and raise a Viet Cong flag beside it.

Protesters at the University of Minnesota scheduled a draft card turn-in ceremony.

There will be 202 empty seats in the audience at a rally in Buffalo, N.Y., Friday night, one for each of the Vietnam war dead from Erie county.

The Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam said in Detroit that it hopes "to 'close down' high schools and colleges across the country to show President Nixon and his staff that a majority of young people in the country are strongly opposed to U.S. policy in Vietnam."

About 200 seminarians from five Roman Catholic seminaries in the New York area called on the Church hierarchy to take "decisive action" in leading the nation's 48 million Catholics to think about the moral issues of the war.

They scheduled an interfaith "liturgy for peace" at St. Patrick's Cathedral Fifth Avenue, with the permission of the New York Archdiocese.

Rails Ask Hike, Cite Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads, seeking support for the third freight rate hike in three years, told the Interstate Commerce Commission today inflation is cutting their profits to "the thinnest of margins."

Answering protests filed against the 6 per cent rate hike appeal filed Oct. 10, the Association of American Railroads said unless the request is granted "even the present minimal earnings will disappear."

The 6 per cent across-the-board freight rate increase would raise an additional $6 mil-

Panel Raises Minimum Income Plan

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential panel has recommended setting the minimum income for poor Americans at $2,400 a year for a family of four—$800 a year more than President Nixon has proposed.

The group, named by former President Lyndon B. Johnson's wound up a 22-month study by sending its report to the White House Wednesday.

The sweeping report, entitled "Poverty Amid Plenty" and prepared by the President's Commission on Income Maintenance Programs, recommends abolition of all other federally financed cash payment programs and gradually increasing the minimum income level to $3,500 a year, a total federal cost of $27 billion.

The initial, income program would cost $7 billion a year and provide payments to about 36 million persons, commission Chairman Ben. W. Heineman said. Heineman is president of Northwest Industries.

"The relatively low dollar cost of the program recommended should underscore the fact that these proposals are not designed to solve all the nation's social problems," the report said.

The commission said the initial $2,400 level "was not chosen because we feel that it is an adequate income, but because it is a practical program that can be implemented in the near future."

Even so, it added, "half of the income needs of the poor would be met by this program alone."

Another basic difference between proposals of the commission and the President deals with work requirements. Under the President's family assistance proposal an able-bodied head of household would be required to work or take job training. The commission recommended no such requirement, adding:

"We do not believe that work disincentive effects of the proposed program would be serious. The level of income provided is low, and we do not believe that the poor are anxious to receive less income rather than more."

The 22-member commission, appointed by Johnson in January of 1968 unanimously supported the conclusions in the report, Heineman said.

Unlike the Nixon plan, the commission plan also would provide assistance to single persons.

The commission further recommended elimination of the federal food stamp program, consolidation of remaining federal welfare programs and an expanded program of birth control information and services.

Thinks Love Nothing But Friendship

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "Love," says Prof. George Carpenter, "is nothing more or less than an elaborate friendship."

Carpenter teaches a course called "Marriage and Family Relations" to 75 students at the University of Nevada.

The 47-year-old instructor father of six, says he stresses love in his course because "society is compulsively interested in it but refuses to analyze it."

His researches on the subject have led Carpenter to this definition:

"Love is the successful interaction of two personalities. It is based on and positively correlated with the ability the two people have to share confidential communication."

"The pleasure of love is the emotional security one gets from such interaction."

In an interview, Carpenter cited the main ingredients of love as understanding, a sense of equality and mutual reliance.

He tells his students—who receive three semester credits for the course—that:

—There is no such thing as love at first sight. It's just an "idealized affection attachment."

—Sex is "a beautiful companion to love" but not a part of it.

—The movies tell it wrong when they put forth the ideas that love is permanent, opposites attract, there is only one person in the world right for you and you can love only one person at a time.

Man-Styled Turnover

HAMBURGER TAKES AN EXCITING TURN coupled with chili sauce and shredded cheddar cheese. This ground beef dish doesn't need any help to turn everybody on for dinner and compliments to you afterwards.

Ground beef, that all-American male favorite, takes a new turn in this surprise recipe. More like a steak than a hamburger or meat loaf, this entree will give your gourmet status a head start on the season.

What's it all about? It's a big, big hamburger patted into a foot circle, half filled with chili sauce and shredded cheddar cheese, folded over and broiled. Sounds simple and it is, but the effect is startling. The stuffing allows the meat to be cooked to any rareness desired while adding a deliciously different texture and taste. It's inexpensive and hearty, fast and good—all the things a good entree ought to be. Wait 'til you hear the raves you receive when you serve it. Coleslaw, asparagus, and dark rye bread might complete the menu with a cool, whippy desert such as tapioca.

Burger Bonus—Over
1 1/2 pounds ground chuck
1 1/2 cups chili sauce
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded sharp cheese
Salt and pepper

Pat the ground chuck into a 12-inch circle between two pieces of heavy foil. Remove top foil. Combine chili sauce and cheese. Reserve 1/2 cup and spoon remaining mixture onto one half of the circle of meat, keeping it away from the edge. Fold other half of meat over and press edge together firmly. Season with salt and pepper. Turn edges of foil up all around and place on a hot broiler rack. Broil 8-10 minutes. Do not turn. Spoon remaining chili sauce mixture over top for last 2 minutes of broiling. Makes 6 servings.

Politicians Waging Sticky Campaigns

By ROGER DOUGHTY
NEA York Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Whoever it was who first observed that there's nothing older than yesterday's news said it before the invention of yesterday's bumper sticker. The bumper sticker is fairly recent in American political life, having been forced to wait for the invention of the bumper. This makes it somewhat new-fangled when compared to the election poster, but a poster is a sometime thing. A bumper sticker is forever. "Look around," says David Ross, president of Votes Unlimited and as such the undisputed overground bumper sticker king, "and you'll see that the stickers outlast the candidates. People become very attached to stickers. I saw one that I know is 12 years old stuck to a tree near my home. The candidate is forgotten, the issues of the campaign are dead, but the bumper sticker lives on."

Ross, who more or less got into the campaign specialties business in '64 when Barry Goldwater tinkered with the idea of flooding the country with heart-shaped balloons as a tie-in with his campaign slogan ("In your balloon you know he's right"), feels people go on living with their bumper stickers long after elections for one of three reasons. "If your guy won," he reasons, "you want the world to know you backed a winner. If he lost, you want to show you're a person of principles and won't back down. Thirdly, a lot of people are too lazy to take them off once they get 'em on."

Ross, who supplies would-be office holders with everything from pennants to combs to emery boards to potholders, mostly in red, white and blue, all designed to get you to vote for somebody or other, usually has cause for celebration, no matter who wins an election. "There were nine guys running in a New Mexico primary," he recalls, "and I sold to seven of them. As long as the other two didn't win, I didn't care." But now and then even a sticker czar can get stuck, as Ross did after last year's presidential election. "I've still got 20,000 Nixon bumper stickers," he admits, "but I'm not worried. I'll get rid of them in 1972. In this business, that's called planning ahead."
